Where an Investor or Investors within 3 business days submit applications for the redemption of the Share Certificates of the Investment Fund that on aggregate exceed 10% of the Fund's net asset value and their execution may substantially affect the interests of other Investors of the Fund, the settlement period for the redemption may be extended to ten business days. - 3) the date and time of the receipt of the application and the payment method;
- 4) the execution date;
- 5) the Fund's identification data (and the ISIN code of the Share Certificates);

- 10) gross value of the application, including the entry charge for the Share Certificate issuance, or net value less redemption charge;
- 11) the total amount of the transaction charge and other charges received.

14. Calculation of the Fund's value

The Fund's Value (also referred to as the Fund's net asset value) is the value of the assets of the Fund less the value of the Fund's liabilities.

In order to determine the value of a Share Certificate Class, the Company has introduced, for accounting purposes, a notional fund and on a daily basis determines the value of the Units of the notional fund.

The value of the notional fund is determined in USD taking into account that the assets of the notional fund include financial instruments, cash and derivatives entered into for the purposes of the management of the Fund. The liabilities of the notional fund include all the fees, charges and expenses specified in the Prospectus of the Fund, except for the Custodian's fee and the Company's fee for the management of the Fund.

The value of a Unit of the notional fund is the net asset value of the notional fund divided by the number of Units of the notional fund registered in the Company's accounting system.

The number of Units of the notional fund is registered in a separate register maintained by the Company's accounting system and is determined by taking into account all the applications submitted in respect of all Share certificate Classes for the acquisition and redemption of the Units of the notional fund as at the moment of the determination.

The Value of a Unit of a Share Certificate Class is the value of the Share Certificate Class divided by the number of Share Certificates in circulation of that respective Share Certificate Class.

The asset value of a Share Certificate Class includes the Units of the notional fund, derivatives attributable to a specific Share Certificate Class of the Fund, if the currency of the Share certificate Class is other than USD, as well as in some cases, cash.

The value of the liabilities of a Share Certificate Class includes the Custodian's fee and the Company's fee for the management of the Fund.

The rights and liabilities provided for in the Share Certificates covers the Fund's assets in their entirety. The Share Certificates of one Class provide for equal rights.

The number of the Share Certificates of each Class is the number of the Share Certificates of the respective class issued less the number of the Share Certificates withdrawn from circulation after the receipt of an application for redemption.

The Company determines the value of the Fund and the value of the Unit of each Share Certificate Class, which is determined in the currency of each Share Certificate Class, at the end of every business day after 17:30.

15. Information on Distribution of the Fund's Income

The Investor of the Fund participates in distribution of income derived from transactions with the Fund's assets in proportion to the value of the Share Certificates owned. Income received from the Fund's assets is reinvested in the Fund. The income of the Investor is reflected in the increase or decrease in the value of Share Certificates.

The Investor can receive the income from their investments in the Fund by requesting the Company to redeem the Share Certificates owned by them or by selling their Share Certificates to third parties.

16. Procedure for Liquidation of the Fund

The liquidation of the Fund is conducted in accordance with the Law.

The Fund is liquidated by the liquidator. The liquidator may be the Company itself, the Custodian, or a person appointed by the Commission.

The Company liquidates the Fund if:

- on the next day after expiry of the Custodian Agreement a new Custodian Agreement has not taken effect;
- within a year after establishing of the Fund no Share Certificate of the Fund has been placed in circulation;
- all the Investors of the Fund have exercised their rights to redeem Share Certificates and the Company has resolved to liquidate the Fund;
- the Commission or the Company has taken a decision on commencing the liquidation of the Fund.

The liquidator immediately informs the Commission about the initiation of the liquidation of the Fund and publishes a respective announcement to that effect in the official gazette "Latvijas Vēstnesis" and/or makes an announcement in accordance with the legal requirements of the country in which the Share Certificates of the Fund are sold.

If the Company or the Custodian does not initiate the liquidation of the Fund within a month from the day when the liquidation should have been initiated, the Commission has the right to appoint the liquidator of the Fund. Such a liquidator of the Fund has the same rights as the Company if it were performing the liquidation. The liquidator is only entitled to carry out activities related to the liquidation of the Fund.

During the liquidation of the Fund, it is prohibited to issue and redeem Share Certificates, and to distribute to the Investors the Fund's income referred to in the Prospectus of the Fund.

The liquidator must act in the interests of the Investors and creditors of the Fund. In selling the Fund's property, the liquidator does not have to comply with the investment limitations specified in the Prospectus.

The liquidator is fully liable to the Investors of the Fund and third parties for any losses caused during the liquidation, if, wilfully or due to negligence, the liquidator has violated the Law or the Fund Rules or failed to comply with his obligations through negligence.

Upon initiation of the liquidation of the Fund, the liquidator organizes and performs the sale of the property of the Fund, except for the cash in the Fund. The Custodian or the liquidator distributes the proceeds derived from the sale of the Fund's assets under liquidation as well as the cash in the Fund (liquidation proceeds) in the following order:

- claims of the secured creditors;
- claims of the creditors who lodged their claims within the term prescribed in the liquidation announcement;
